HONGKONG, 17th SEPTEMBER, 1903

While it is very satisfactory to hear of the recovery by the Police of the bulk of jewelry stolen from the Hon. Dr. ATKINSON's house at the Peak on the 17th June last; of the smart capture of a coolie in the employ of Mr. FRANK BROWN, Government Analyst, who made off on the 5th July with articles of the value of upwards of $320; and of the trial of another domestic servant for the extensive robbery of valuables from his mistress, Mrs. GRILLANDERS, as showing the increased activity and ability of the detective branch of the Force, it also suggests the reflection that the registration of servants is more than ever necessary. In all the three cases mentioned above, these robberies were perpetrated by the servants. In another case, which occurred about the same time as the robbery from the residence of the Principal Medical Officer, namely the very comprehensive clearance of all the valuables belonging to Mrs. W. C. JACK by her house-boy from their house in Kowloon while his master and mistress were away at Macao, the act was also a breach of trust by a domestic servant, and he seems to have got off scot-free. In each case, no doubt, the employer had reposed considerable trust in the employee, and this confidence had been greatly abused. It would be interesting to have a return of all the robberies committed by Chinese servants from their employers during the past five years, and the number of convictions obtained against the perpetrators. It would also be instructive to compile a list of the losses, and the number of instances in which there had been a recovery of any of the stolen property. What would be still more useful would be a return—were that possible—showing in how many instances the employers had either neglected to demand characters with these dishonest servants or had been deluded with borrowed papers. Some residents are even rash enough to engage coolies or boys without a written character, accepting, for the sake of avoiding trouble, the assurance of the candidate for service that he had lived with Mr. or Mrs. So-and-so for a certain period, and had previously acted in similar capacity with other well known former residents, but had lost his papers. This story, always plausibly told, and sometimes supported by an obvious knowledge of the persons named, is too apt to impose upon fresh arrivals in the Colony, who thus not infrequently take into their service known bad characters or servants with a record for insolence and squeezing.

It is high time that some check should be imposed upon this system of chartering rascality. Good servants are not infrequently driven to refuse to take service in houses where they find some notorious blackmailer installed, who insists upon receiving a proportion of their wages as a premium for admission into the household, which he runs to his own profit and his employer's detriment and loss. If the Government would only permit the establishment of a compulsory system of registration, as suggested by the Commission appointed some time ago to report on the desirability of the registration of servants, it would do much to remedy the present unsatisfactory state of affairs. The Commission recommended that the private chair-coolies—their report was limited to this class of servant—should be registered by the Police, and photographs attached to their certificate of registration. This latter provision was, we believe, regarded with disfavour by His Excellency the Governor, who thought the coolies would object to be photographed. Possibly some of them would at first; indeed, it is highly probable that some of them have excellent reasons for objecting to such a provision, as it might prove exceedingly inconvenient if they followed previous practices and decamped one fine day with their masters' property. The honest decent coolies would not object to be photographed any more than do the engineers and other Chinese who are employed in launches, etc., who are registered and photographed. If some did object, it might well be construed against them as a point for suspicion, for mere prejudice is always soon overcome in a Chinaman when dollars or good employment are at stake. They would, moreover, soon learn to value these certificates, as would also the employer, knowing they could not—owing to the attachment of photograph as proof of identity—be loaned as is now the case with so many Chinese credentials. Known bad characters would be at once weeded out of the ranks of domestic servants, and inferior servants would experience a difficulty in obtaining situations, while those with good credentials would be able to secure the high wages that experience and good conduct would entitle them to expect. The benefits of registration would prove by no means one-sided. The servants would profit equally with the masters; perhaps, on the whole, they would be the greater gainers, for not only would their ranks be purged of the rascals who have forced their way in and brought them into discredit, but they would most certainly be able to command higher wages for long and good service. The registration would also enable the Police to trace offenders, and put some check on the now very common offence of burglary. It would also lead to the gradual formation of a superior class of domestic servant, who would be more self-respecting, more reliable, and more inclined to give willing and good service for the pay earned.

A sequel to the big price paid for the Opium Farm lease is that the price of opium has gone up from $2 to $2.50 per taal. A further rise in price is considered not unlikely. There is word of a Quoting Club being started in Hongkong. There are many fine quoters in the Colony, who only require opportunity to show their proficiency at the game. The Press Act, which is now in force in Portugal, has been extended to Portuguese India. The Governor there has now ample powers to suppress any journal "conducted improperly, or offending too freely or severely Government measures"—as at Macao.

A blank plague-return was issued from the Sanitary Board Office yesterday.

The English mail of the 15th ult. was delivered in London on the 13th inst.

H.M.S. Argonaut was expected at Singapore from Hongkong on the 11th inst. "It is to relieve the Rosario on this station," says a Singapore contemporary.

Bangkok holds its next race-meeting in December next. A programme of seven events for each of three days has been placed before a general meeting.

Mr. Brown is expected back in Hongkong on the 17th of next month. When he comes back Mr. C. McI. Messer, who is acting as Registrar-General, will, we understand, take up duty in the Land Office.

A Ruter's telegram, dated Washington, August 17th, says:—Mr. Conger, United States Minister at Peking, has secured a written promise from Prince Ching to sign the American commercial treaty, including a clause providing for the opening of Mukden and Tatungkou on October 3.

We are requested to draw attention to the fuller announcement by Messrs. Hughes & Hough of the auction of household furniture to be held on the 19th inst. at 5, Cameron Villas, Peak, the residence of Mr. Norton Kynne, who is leaving the Colony. The furniture will be on view to-morrow, the 18th inst.

Mrs. Walters, a passenger by the Calcutta mail-steamer, was arrested by the Hongkong police on the 3rd ult. for being in possession of 4,980 tolas of opium, which were found concealed in two tin boxes with false bottoms. The accused was admitted to bail, executing a bond for Rs.500, with two sureties for a like amount each.

Mr. J. P. Radgor, C.M.G., who succeeds Sir Matthew Nathan in the Governorship of the Gold Coast, has been in the Federated Malay States Civil Service since 1882, when he was Chief Magistrate in Selangor. He was Acting Resident of Selangor, 1884-85; Resident of Pahang, 1888-90; Resident of Selangor, 1896-1902; and last year was made Resident of Perak.

A nuisance inspector went into a house in the Central district the other evening in the course of his duty, and it seems that he interrupted a gambling party, who scurried out of the house in all haste. One of the members of the party, in his endeavour to escape arrest, jumped over the verandah and was very seriously injured, so much so that he had to be removed to the hospital for treatment.

The Singapore Free Press mentions an interesting example of Chinese customs which came out in the course of a property dispute in the Supreme Court there. A Chinaman stated that he did not attend the funeral of his mother-in-law, for the reason that he had been born in the "Fowl" year, and those born in that year did not attend funerals because it was unlucky for them to do so. The practice was, he averred, common in China.

By permission of Major Radcliff and officers, the band of the 33rd Major Infantry will play the following programme at the Kowloon Hotel, during dinner, this evening (weather permitting):—
March:—"The Union's Call," Ellenberg.
Overture:—"Medusa," Stanislas Elliot.
Selection:—"A Chinese Honey-moon," Talbot.
Song:—"The Promise of Life," Cowen.
Selection:—"Carmen," Bizet.
Waltz:—"Prince d'Amour," Waldteufel.
Barcarolle:—"Carnet d'Amour," Contorno.
March:—"God Save the King."

A Simla telegram, dated September 3, says:—"The plague grows continually worse in Western and Southern India. Last week Bombay Presidency reported 5,528 deaths, Madras Presidency 124, Hyderabad State 338, the Berars 234, Central India 1,174, Mysore 410, and the Central Provinces 65. In the same period Bengal had only 23 deaths, the United Provinces three, and the Punjab 31, while the rest of Upper India was entirely clear." On the other hand, the last famine relief works have been closed in the Peninsula of India. It has been found necessary to open them in Burma, where 1,117 people are now reported as in receipt of this form of assistance.

The German Press has little comment to offer upon Russia's latest step in the Far East. The Vossische Zeitung, which recognizes that the powers conferred on Admiral Alexeeff are tantamount to the incorporation of Manchuria and the Liaotung Peninsula in the Russian Empire, says that it cannot be maintained that so far as the Foreign Office is concerned, Russia has deliberately misled Europe as to her intentions. The Berlin Liberal organ seems to think that Count Lamsdorff would have been glad to let things develop gradually in the Far East, but that his hand has been forced by the party of action. M. Witte and General Kuropatkin have travelled in Manchuria; Count Lamsdorff has not, and he has come off second best. The Vossische Zeitung finds proof of Count Lamsdorff's defeat in the fact that Admiral Alexeeff has been given power to enter into diplomatic relations with neighbouring States and is therefore to some extent independent of the Foreign Office. The neighbouring States are, of course, China and Japan. The war party in the latter country believes that the independence of Corea, which is a vital question for Japan, requires that Manchuria should not fall into Russian hands. An outbreak of feeling may therefore be expected in Japan, which "will very probably be directed against the ineffective alliance with England."

Durian ice-cream is reported from Penang to be the latest delicacy sold to Kling tambies, etc., by a hawkier in the Square. Its presence there was no doubt duly perceived.

Cholera has not confined its ravages to the shipping community at Shanghai. No less than eight nuns have been attacked with the disease at Siewai. One died, but the others were recovering last week.

We read in the Shanghai Union:—"Dengue fever has been having the free run of the Settlements lately, though we do not believe that every case reported is actually dengue fever. For this complaint takes Sialidita powders and alloy the itching with vinegar and water."

The propriety or otherwise of using the word "tram" for a tram-car has been discussed in some home papers lately. One correspondent wrote to point out that the modern Greek for a tram is (in Roman characters) "atmoipodromos" and that the Athenian prefers to use "tram" as a more convenient word to utter, employing it alike for cars and track.

With regard to the Supan case the P. & T. Times remarks:—"There is no doubt a great feeling is abroad amongst the enlightened Chinese diametrically opposed to what the Court is doing and we can sympathize with them, but in this matter the Powers are greatly to blame in reinstating one who, so long as she is in power, will do no good for China. And we think that the Diplomatic Body should do all in their power to clip the Chinese authorities' wings rather than cater to a system of Government of the most pernicious description."

A Winnipeg telegram last month stated that "a number of Doukhobor women, started to resume the pilgrimage in search of Christ, which was checked with so much difficulty last year. While the men were working in the fields the women, having stripped themselves naked, started on their journey. The men were informed, and, finding all attempts to dissuade them fruitless, they then used whips and drove the women to their homes." The methods of both sexes of this extraordinary body of fanatics seem very thorough.

An interesting story comes from Tristan-da-Cunha, that South Atlantic island belonging to Britain on which we quoted the report recently. When the gunboat Thetis paid its last visit the services of Lieut. Commander Watts-Jones, R.N., were requisitioned for the christening of eighteen children. There is no clergyman on the island, and the only religious instruction is at a small Sunday school conducted by one of the women. There is a precedent for the christening ceremony by a naval officer, for in 1898 a similar service was held at which the "celebrant" was the commander of the gunboat Widgeon.

L'Echo de Chine, discussing some correspondence which has arisen out of the Supan affair, says:—"Aequus" [one of the writers] "claims that neither America nor England have anything to gain by their intervention in favour of the Supan. Of the first-named this is perhaps true. Of the second, we venture to think differently, and the reason is simple enough. Great Britain looks for a change in the Government of China. The Emperor Dowager is growing older. If the Emperor succeeds her and is to hold the reins of government in his hand, Britain counts on the gratitude of the reformers to obtain at length what she cannot even dream of asking at the present moment." L'Echo de Chine is evidently not anxious to promote the cordiality of which M. Combes seemed proud to speak earlier this week.

The late "Colonel" Schiel rose to the rank of lieutenant of Hussars in the Prussian army before, at 29 years of age, he emigrated to South Africa. It is not perhaps generally known that Schiel once tried to deprive Great Britain of the possession of Zululand. After his arrival in South Africa, for some time he was employed by a German colonist to look after travelling ox-wagons, and in this capacity became acquainted with a great part of South Africa. He then became the chief Induna of Dinizulu, the eldest son of Cetewayo, who at Schiel's advice called in some Boers to help him subdue other Zulu chiefs. Schiel and the Boer leaders Lucas Meyer and John Pretorius obtained from Dinizulu concessions of land reaching down to Santa Lucia Bay. Some large Bremen firms also received gifts of land. Dinizulu sent Schiel to Berlin in 1885 to treat with Prince Bismarck as to the annexation of Zulu territory by Germany. As, however, the English and the Boers proved prior claims, Prince Bismarck preferred not to interfere.

As if to show their disapprobation of the present military conditions in Serbia and the particularly incorrect attitude of those officers who took part in the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, the Russian and Austrian Governments resolved last month to send back all Serbian officers who came to their respective countries for purposes of study. Moreover, Russia has forbidden officers in the Russian army to have even unofficial social intercourse with Serbian officers. Things have indeed changed since the time when, by order of the Emperor Nicholas II, the nine-year-old Prince George (now heir to the usurped throne of Serbia) was admitted to the Alexandrovsk Cadet School in St. Petersburg, and the Russian Emperor, whenever he visited this school, never neglected an opportunity to show some special marks of favour to the young Prince. When King Alexander married Draga Maslin, the Tsar inspected the Cadet School, called the young Prince George Karageorgievitch out of the ranks of the assembled pupils, and kissed him on his forehead and on both cheeks.

FRANCE'S FOREIGN RELATIONS.
LONDON, 14th September.
M. Combes, speaking at Treguier, said the Republic was flourishing. Abroad the alliance with Russia was assuming a more and more pronounced character of cordiality and intimacy. The friendship of France and Italy was being strengthened by reciprocal marks of the most sincere cordiality with Great Britain, with whom would now exist only a rivalry in good methods and friendly demonstrations.

CABINET COUNCIL—THE FISCAL ENQUIRY.

LONDON, 14th September.
A Cabinet Council lasting three hours was held yesterday. A considerable crowd watched the arrivals. Mr. Chamberlain was greeted with mingled cheers and hoots, the former predominating. It is understood that Mr. Balfour submitted to the Cabinet a detailed statement showing the results hitherto reached in the fiscal enquiry. Another meeting will be held to-day.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MAJOR-GENERAL GASCOIGNE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."
Hongkong, 16th September.
Sir,—Your leading article of this morning mentioned the many kind acts of Major-General Gascoigne which made him one of the most popular of Generals who have come to Hongkong, but you have forgotten to state that it was due to Major-General Gascoigne's thoughtful disposition that we are having weekly performances of military bands on the Parade Ground which, although given but once a week, serve to soothe a little the even tenor of our life in Hongkong. That these performances are much appreciated by the public was evidenced by the large concourse of people at the Parade Ground last Monday. Apart from the attractions offered by the combined bands, as it was the last appearance of those of General Gascoigne, a large gathering turned out to testify their appreciation of this act of kindness. Now that he is gone, I hope that his successor will follow in his footsteps, and continue to allow the bands to play as hitherto.—Yours, &c.,

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."
Hongkong, 16th September.
Sir,—Allow me through the medium of your valuable paper to bring to the notice of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals an instance of gross cruelty to a dog practised by a tukong. The man was dragging along the streets to the Police Station an apparently stray dog, and the poor animal was struggling and suffering a good deal. I agree that stray dogs must be got rid of, but by all means do so without causing suffering to the poor beasts. The present system of the police men for catching stray dogs—a ratian nose at the end of a long bamboo pole—is ridiculous and I would commend it to the notice of the Society to condemn this system and get the Police authorities to adopt some other means for catching these dogs which will cause no unnecessary suffering to the poor animals. The ignorant and over-zealous tukongs cannot be allowed to carry on these gross acts of cruelty, and I hope that this letter of mine will be the means of checking if not altogether putting a stop to these abuses.—Yours, &c.,

A LOVER OF DOGS.

HUNAN IS OPEN.

In an account of a Church Missionary conference held at Changsha, the capital of Hunan, written for the monthly circular of the Hongkong Church Missionary Association, the Rev. L. Byrde writes:—"It was truly a wonderful experience that such a number of foreigners (30) could meet peacefully in the very capital, and that moreover during the celebration of the great yearly heathen fe. There is no question that, as Dr. John says, 'Hunan is open,' and not only open at its doors but open from end to end. We travelled from Kweilin right through the province, guarded, it is true, by soldiers, for since the Chenchoo massacres the officials have been exceedingly careful, but nevertheless the country is open everywhere. A word about Changsha, 'The Long Sand,' so called from the long sand-flat in the river opposite the city. It is one of the finest cities in China. Several missionaries of wide experience said that they had not seen a finer. Its population is said to be four hundred thousand, though the last official 'census' gives about half that figure. The city lies roughly four square, on the east side of the Siang River, the whole area within the walls being built over. The streets are broader than usual and the shops imposing. It escaped the Taipings, from whose depredation many cities have not yet recovered. Signs of progress are apparent on all hands: I will only mention the extensive use of glass in the houses and the Wellington boots of the students at the newly-built military college."

NOTES FROM THE BOTANIC GARDENS.

One of the prettiest of Hongkong orchids may now be seen in flower growing around the tank just outside the No. 1 house. This is Arundina chinensis, a grass-like plant when not in flower but exceedingly striking at this time of the year. The plant grows to a height of two or three feet and is often found thriving on rocks near watercourses. The flowers, which are white with a mauve tip, are produced at the ends of the shoots, and as there is a succession of these for two or three months, it is a good plant to have in a garden. Hibiscus lamertianus thrives remarkably well in Hongkong, where it makes a bush of at least 10 or 12 ft. high and as many feet through. It is in flower almost the whole year round and as the flowers are red and several inches across they make a brilliant show in any garden even at the dullest time of the year. The species is a native of South America. Another useful shrub and one that is nearly always in flower is Rondeletia odorata, a native of Cuba and Mexico. It makes a bush about 6 ft. high and has crimson flowers which are abundantly produced in small clusters at the ends of the branches. A bush may be seen in flower in the shrubbery near the bandstand. The rainfall since the 9th of September has been 6.72 inches, making a total of 21.37 inches for the month to date, which is more than double the average fall for this month. The fall for the year to date is 80.78 inches.

LATE TELEGRAMS.

(VIA RANGOON.)
THE FAR EAST.
London, 29th August.

The Times Peking correspondent in a telegram says:—We are within measurable time of events in the Far East which will compel the attention of the world. Japan presented at St. Petersburg on the 12th instant proposals for a modus vivendi, requiring reciprocal recognition of the respective rights of the two Powers in Manchuria and Korea. If the scornful attitude of the Russians in the Far East towards Japanese pretensions reflects the opinion of the authorities at St. Petersburg, there can be little expectation of an amicable settlement.

THE BALKANS.
London, 30th August.
News from the Balkans is conflicting. On the one hand in Turkish circles opinions appear more optimistic and express a hope that the insurrection at Monastir will be crushed in the course of a week; while reports from Sofia declare that the situation is more acute. The difficulties of the Bulgarian Government are increasing, as the people resent the efforts of Government to prevent insurgent bands from crossing the frontier.

London, 2nd September.
The Turkish official estimate has put down 1,500 Bulgarians as having been killed in the recent fighting at Smilovo, Neveska, and Klistara.

London, 3rd September.
The steamer Yushko from Varna to Constantinople was blown up in the Black Sea. Three formidable explosions took place, apparently on deck. The Captain, officers and six of the crew and a number of passengers were killed. Altogether twenty-nine perished.

THE RUSSIAN MISSION.
London, 30th August.
The Russian Press is showing increased uneasiness regarding the prolonged stay of the British Commission at Seistan, and urges the Russian Government to demand its recall.

THE SUGAR CONVENTION.
London, 31st August.
The Times Paris correspondent is informed from St. Petersburg that Russia finding her interests prejudiced by the Brussels Convention, particularly regarding the export of sugar to England and to India, will resort to retaliatory measures which will principally affect the tea trade.

THE LATE LORD SALISBURY.
London, 31st August.
Lord Salisbury was buried at Hatfield to-day. The Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishops of Colchester and Rochester officiated. The funeral was strictly private and attended by relatives, personal friends and servants only. A simultaneous memorial service was held at Westminster Abbey which was thronged by Peers, Commons, Ambassadors and other notables. The Earl of Clarendon represented the King.

DESTRUCTION OF MAILS.
London, 31st August.
A fire occurred on the outward Indian mail train at Creil in France on Saturday. Thirty-five bags were destroyed and twenty-five partially damaged; all containing newspapers.

SOMALILAND.
London, 1st September.
A party of Somalis who tampered with the telegraph wire near Gololi have been successfully rounded up by the Somali Mounted Infantry and punished by the civil power.

ROUTER WIRES FROM ADEN THAT IT HAS BEEN discovered that most of the rifles and ammunition smuggled into Somaliland came from France and England. A London firm implicated has shipped three million rounds of Lee-Enfield ammunition since the operations began.

OBITUARY.
London, 1st September.
The death is announced of Mr. J. L. Cawthra, Member for South Meath.

London, 2nd September.
The death is announced of Dr. William Huxley, Professor of Divinity, Glasgow, and formerly of Calcutta.

SETTLERS IN UGANDA.
London, 1st September.
Sir Harry Johnston, in a letter to the Times, protests against assigning to Russian and Roumanian Jews a considerable proportion of the small part of the British Protectorate in East Africa suitable for Europeans, which should be kept for Britishers of all creeds.

THE WORLD'S CROPS.
London, 1st September.
According to the Hungarian Government's annual estimate of the world's crops, the requirements of the States importing wheat exceed the surpluses of the exporting States by 131 million metric tons. India's surplus is estimated at 13 millions.

CRICKET.
London, 2nd September.
Somerset beat Hampshire by an innings and 19 runs. The match between Kent and Sussex has been drawn. Surrey beat Leicestershire by three wickets. The Players beat the Gentlemen by an innings and eight runs.

CHANNEL-SWIMMING.
London, 2nd September.
Monatzen Holbein started from Dover at six last evening to make his fourth attempt to swim the Channel. A strong current caused him to abandon the task four miles off Calais at two this afternoon.

THE SUMMER SEASON.
is full of dangers particularly for the children, who not knowing the result of eating unripe fruit, indulge themselves with the usual griping pains in the stomach as a consequence; mothers should have on hand at all times a bottle of Painkiller (Perry Davis) which will at once relieve the sufferer; it is a safe, simple remedy and it should be kept in every house.

INDIA AND THE FAR EAST PROBLEM.

Captain Owen Wheeler, writing in The King's States:—We may take it for granted that nowhere—not even in Japan—have the movements of Russia in the Far East been followed with closer and more intelligent interest than in India. There are quarters—very high quarters—in which the possibility of a Russian attack on India through China has for a long time past been recognised, and to a certain extent provided against—at any rate, so far as the collection and compilation of the right kind of military intelligence is concerned. But as long as Russia's only footing in the Far East was comprised in Vladivostok, which for some months in the year was useless as a naval base of active operations, India could possess its soul in patience. Now all that has changed, and there is no sense in blinking the fact that Russia's presence at Port Arthur is not only a menace to our commercial supremacy in China, but a fact which India must take seriously into account in arranging her system of self-defence. For India the obvious role is that of the strong man armed, and not only armed, but overabundantly on the quiet for sudden trouble in surprising shapes. Prior to the operations in 1900 there was a good deal of objectionable glamour about the Russian Army in the minds of our native soldiers, on the omnis ignotum pro magno principle. Intercourse with the Russian troops during the International advance to the relief of Peking dissipated Jack Sepoy of any notion that the Russian soldier was a personage of extraordinary military merit, and, if the Slav ever succeeds in crossing our Indian borders, he will have no fanciful reputation to help him. For a long time the Russian menace may have served as a foil to cover Russian design, upon Constantinople; now it may be intended chiefly to mask the establishment of Russian influence upon a permanent basis in China. In either case the strategy has been nicely adapted to the end in view. Russia knows well the advantage which the power of making these feints upon India gives her, and uses that power with amazing skill. If Russia can only overawe Japan and keep as preoccupied with the defence of India, the establishment of her supremacy in China and the Far East generally will come about far more cheaply and effectively than it could in any other way. Hitherto our policy has depended largely upon a combined system of outposts and buffer states. The Seistan Arbitration Commission, and the institution of the new Frontier Province is a valuable act. Another section of the frontier will undergo rigid inspection during the next few weeks, and whatever there is of military significance in the position and resources of Kashmir and Gilgit is certainly not likely to escape the cold grey eyes of Lord Kitchener. Then Colonel Frank Younghusband, C.I.E., has fared forth, in the amiable guise of a Commissioner, for negotiating with China a settlement of the relations between India and Tibet, and, strangely enough, the Russians seem quite as irritated by this last proceeding as they were by the arrival of the Arbitration Commission in Seistan.
